Dead.

Kate Kellner, a well known character in Atlanta, died on Christmas day.

Attempt to Commit Suicide.

Mr. Lewis Powell, a well known citizen of Atlanta, made an attempt to take his life on Monday.

Christmas Day.

Christmas Day was, upon the whole, a lively one in our city. The weather was warm and pleasant, the sky bright and clear, while from morning until late at night crowds of persons were seen on the various streets. The children were all happy and were rewarded with pleasant words by kind parents and friends, who placed in their warm little hands the gifts of Santa Claus. Tiny Mag found in her Christmas stocking the crying doll, and shy Ruth a charming book of poems for a child. Laughing Kate received Dottie Dimple, a book overflowing with the humors of childhoods freaks; while frank spoken Jack was enchanted with his knife. We trust that no little stocking, hung with loving faith on Christmas eve, was found empty in the misty grey of the breaking Christmas morn, and that each face around the Christmas breakfast glowed bright in the love reflected from the gifts beside each plate.

During the day many jokes were got off, and much powder consumed. But one casualty occurred during Christmas, a negro boy accidently shot another in the mouth, producing almost instant death. This took place out at Jenningsville. Between two and three o'clock, during the day, there was a false alarm of fire.

Christmas night all was life and amusement. Christmas trees at various places, suppers, fancy bands of music parading the streets, and the ball at old Concordia Hall. The latest observation taken by this reporter was witnessing grave lawyers and thoughtful railroad men fling off Roman candles.

[CONDENSED FOR THE CONSTITUTION.]

There were six marriages in Talbot county last week.—Talbotton Standard.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, of McDuffie county, died suddenly a few days ago.—McDuffie Journal

The Holiday Star, a newsy little paper, was issued from the Griffin Star office, on Christmas day.

On the morning of the 22d instant, the body of Mr. John Wilcox was found dead in a field near the "Bay Swamp," a few miles from Augusta.—Chronicle and Sentinel.

Mr. DeCordova will lecture in Savannah on January 5th. Mr. M. Larkin, the engineer who was injured on the Augusta Branch of the Central Railroad, a few days since, is dead.—Savannah News.

Last Sunday night, after service was over in the Methodist Church in Thomaston, while the lamps were being extinguished, one of them exploded, and came very near resulting seriously.—Thomaston Herald.

A colored man named Henry Carr was killed two miles below Hayneville on Sunday night by Howard Harrison, colored. Mr. Robert Holmes died at his residence near Henderson on Tuesday of last week.—Houston Home Journal.

A few days ago a little daughter of Mrs. John Floyd, a widow lady living in Miller county, was instantly killed by having her head caught and crushed between the lever and capsill of a cane mill. The child was about eleven years old, and was engaged in feeding the mill when the accident happened. Early County News.

We do not think that it will hurt to copy this from the Savannah Morning News: THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION learns that the committee appointed to investigate the State Road swindles is thinking about employing McCalla, an old book-keeper under Blodgett, to take charge of the books. This is all very well for a Christmas joke, but the committee had better let Blodgett's men alone.

Miss Katie Putnam inaugurates, theatrically, the new year in Savannah, supported by the popular actor, John Dillon. The full length life-size portrait of the late illustrious General Robert E. Lee, which was executed by an eminent artist of Virginia, John A. Elder, under a commission from the city Council, has been received in Savannah.—Savannah News.

The authorities have determined to rebuild, after a new model, Emory College. The new building will cost about $30,000. One party in Augusta, on the 23d instant, sold during the morning more than one thousand pounds of dressed turkeys. Captain Charles Hamilton, of South Carolina, and Mr. Joseph Wade of McDuffie county, had a difficulty in Thomson, on Friday last, in which Captain Hamilton shot Mr. Wade, inflicting a serious wound, but one which was not considered fatal.—Chronicle and Sentinel.

The editor of the Lumpkin Telegraph has been presented with a collard which was seven and a half feet high, and measured four and a half feet across. A son of Professor Flewellen, of Andrew Female College, shot himself in the leg, accidently, while hunting near Georgetown a few days ago. Mrs. J. T. Keaton, of Calhoun county, gave birth to three healthy boys a few days. The house of Aunt Anica Barton, in Cuthbert, was destroyed by fire a few days since.—Cuthbert Appeal.

Mr. Graham, of Savannah, had an arm broken while attempting to jump from the cars, at a station between Charleston and Savannah. Dan Rice will visit Savannah, the 1st, 3d, and 31 days of January. The Formes-Habelman Opera Troupe closed their engagement in Savannah, on the 23d; full houses continued to the end. It is among the very best companies that has visited the South; indeed, we do not recollect one that could boast of so great amount of talent. Alpeoria Bradley and others called a meeting in Savannah on Christmas Day, for the purpose of petitioning Congress on what they call the illegal acts of the present Legislature of Georgia.—Savannah Republican.

General Colquitt passed through Fairburn last week. It will surprise many of our young people to hear that the General spent his boyhood in Campbell county. His father owned the Pumpkin Town plantation, which is now the property of two of our most prosperous countrymen, Levi Ballard and Owen Cochran. The General was in fine health and demeaned himself in his usual sober, quiet and modest way. In his cold black eyes you can see the fire and chivalry of his noble ancestry. The ladies say that he is handsome. We admire General Colquitt for his true moral worth, for his legal ability and statesmanship, for his manly conduct as a soldier in the defense of his country. He is such a man as the people delight to honor.—Pulmetto Gazette.

Judge Levy, the Ordinary of Richmond county, has issued between fifty and sixty marriage licenses during the present month. The directors of the Georgia Railroad and representatives of the Georgia Central Railroad have been in conference in Augusta. The cause of the conference is supposed to be that the Pennsylvania Central has been endeavoring to lease those lines of railway leading from Atlanta to Selma, Alabama, in which the Georgia and the Georgia Central Railroads are both largely interested. The Pennsylvania Central is said to have made a proposition to the Georgia Railroad for the purpose of obtaining the consent of the latter to a lease of the lines between the points above mentioned. The Georgia Central is endeavoring to prevent any arrangements of this kind, and offers other terms to the Georgia Railroad.—Constitutionalist.

Mrs. Clark, who was on her way from Tennessee to Georgeton, South Carolina, where she had been visiting her son-in-law, died on the seventeenth at the residence of W. Anderson, Esq., of Lumpkin county. The infant daughter of Mr. George Clements, of Lumpkin county, was burnt to death on the sixteenth. Captain Thiers, Superintendent of the Battle Branch Mine, informs us that unknown parties made an attempt to rob the sluice boxes at the above mine a few days ago. The would-be thief got away after receiving the contents of a shot gun. Hon. Harrison Riley has returned from the Legislative Halls, and paid us a visit. The General looks hale and hearty, and speaks in high terms of the H. I. Kimball House, where he has been enjoying the luxuries and delicacies of the season during his sojourn in Atlanta.—Mountain Signal.

Mr. Niblack, of Jackson county, was thrown from his buggy Tuesday of last week, and had his leg badly broken, rendering amputation necessary. Rev. Josiah Lewis, Jr., has entered upon his duties as pastor of the First Methodist Church in Athens. Colonel Christy, of the Southern Watchman, has taken a departure for a Western tour. The result of the election in Clark was 663 votes polled. All of them were cast for James M. Smith. The stable attached to the premises of Mrs. Dorsey was discovered to be on fire on the morning of the 22d. It contained a large amount of forage, and the flames made such rapid progress that four mules in the stable were burned to death. One of them was the venerable "Town Mule." The fire is thought to have been the work of an incendiary. The residence of Mr. J. C. Matthews, about eight miles above Athens, was burned on the 22d. The family saved nothing but the clothes they had on. The gin house of Dr. H. R. J. Long, a few miles from Athens, was burned on the 22d. Two or three bales of cotton were also burned. Southern Banner.

On the night of the 21st instant, as the passenger train on the Central Railroad approached a point between 15 and 16 miles from Augusta, and known as Barney's Bluff, the engineer, Mr. Larkins, discovered a drove of mules on the track in front and at once blew down the brakes. Before the train could be stopped, it ran into the drove and over three of the mules. The engine was thrown from the track and down an embankment 20 feet in height. It was followed by the tender and a horse car immediately in the rear of the latter, the express and baggage cars, and colored people's coach, all of which were piled upon each other, in the most indiscriminate manner. The engineer was seriously injured internally, besides being badly scalded by the escaping steam. The two firemen were severely bruised, and were also scalded. The negro passengers were bruised by being thrown about in the car as it went down, but only one received any serious damage. He was badly cut on the ear by a piece of glass, and it was feared that he would bleed to death. The engine and cars were badly damaged. On account of indisposition, Mrs. Mouton gave but one concert in Augusta.—Constitutionalist.

Editors Constitution: One of the most important duties which the new Mayor and Council will be called on to perform, will be the election of a Judge of the City Court. A glance at the act creating that court will satisfy the most casual observer that no mere pettifogging tyro, or third or second rate lawyer should be its presiding officer, but a man of brains and of superior legal ability and experience, with a clear, cool head and honest heart, who will see that justice be done though the heavens fall. We have such a man in our midst. As a lawyer, he stands in the front rank, and he is as honest as the day is long—not because it is the "best policy," but he is honest for honesty's sake. And our Mayor and Council would do honor to themselves and grace the Bench of our City Court by placing its ermine upon that able lawyer and upright man, Judge Richard H. Clarke.

MRS. FAIR.—MRS. Fair's face has assumed a deathly pallor. A San Francisco paper has the following:

After her conviction there was a host of friends, or pretended friends, who called to see her, and, as they termed it, "to comfort her in her great misfortune." "But, little by little, the number of visitors grew less, and now, besides her mother, daughter and attorneys, there are only three women who call upon her, and only one of these pays her visits daily. She passes her time of late in reading and writing. She still refuses to take prison food, and her meals are brought to her twice a day from a restaurant. Mrs. Fair is full of hope that the court having her case under consideration will say by its decision that she is entitled to a new trial.

☞ A bashful youth was paying his addresses to a gay lass of the country, who had long despaired of bringing things to a crisis. He came one day when she was alone. After settling the merits of the weather, the girl said, looking shyly into his face: "I dreamed of you last night." "Did you? why—now!" "Yes, I dreamed that you kissed me." "Why, now! what did you dream your mother said?" "Oh, I dreamed she wasn't at home." A light dawned on the youth's intellect, a singular sound broke the stillness, and in less than four months they were married.—Inder.

☞ King Charles II., paying a visit to Dr. Busby, the doctor is said to have strutted through the room with his hat on, while his majesty walked complacently behind him, with his hat under his arm. But when he was taking his leave at the door, the doctor thus addressed the King: "I hope your majesty will excuse my want of respect hitherto; but if my boys were to imagine there was a greater man in the Kingdom than myself, I should never be able to rule them."

"Going, going, going, going, just a-going!" cried an auctioneer. "Where are you going?" asked a passer-by. "To the circus to tell the keeper that one of his baboons is loose," was the reply. The interrupter "moved on" amid boisterous laughter.

THERE IS NO DEATH.—If it be true that nature abhors a vacuum, it is equally as true that the great Creator abhors DEATH, and glories in LIFE. There is really no such thing as death—the term is a misnomer, and used to designate the changes which occur in life. Life, eternal life, is created by the laws of almighty will-power, which are as immutable in their application as is the existence of the great Creator himself. We might cite a thousand illustrations to prove this statement; yet, like the great Godhead of the universe, the idea would still appear incomprensible to many, in their present sphere of intelligence. But the time will come when it will be known and comprehended. If people only good enough, all might be transported, even as Elijah was. As good health contributes to righteousness, Plantation Bitters is recommended to secure health, righteousness, and transportation. This is, we suppose, one reason why nearly all the ministry use it.

Morning Edition.

ATLANTA:

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1871.

Subscribe to The Constitution.

A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to THE CONSTITUTION exclusively, by the Reporter of the Court.

☞ The New York Tribune says the Georgia Radicals were very foolish in not running a candidate at the late election.

☞ Prof. Morgan H. Looney, formerly of this State, now of Fayetteville, Arkansas, is stopping at the Cannon House. He is on a visit to his parents in this State.

☞ Mattie Haywood, a chestnut sorrel mare, eight years old, owned by Colonel G. W. Dickey, trotted twenty miles in a little less than an hour, in San Francisco.

Personal.

We had a pleasant call from Major J. B. Peck, the well known and efficient railroader. He is now Passenger Agent of the Selma and Dalton Railroad.

☞ Mr. J. D. Boynton has been elected as the representative from Calhoun county. In this county, at the last election, the ballot box was stolen. This time it was guarded. The result is the election of a Democrat.

Forging Franks.

Grant's newspaper organ in Washington has been detected in forging the frank of Congressmen to its circulars, with which it has been flooding the country. A resolution will be introduced in Congress to ascertain whether the forgers cannot be brought to justice.

☞ John Quincy Adams puts it well. He says:

"The present Administration is doing more to permanently disunite the States than Jefferson Davis ever did; it's chief, we are told, can conceive of no means of free government but military force, and no motive of public action but private profit"

Paid Up.

In the late contest in the Legislature of Louisiana seven Senators elected as Democrats voted with nine Grant men against the election of Mr. Pinchback as Lieutenant Governor. Six of these gentlemen have received appointments in the New Orleans Custom House.

Wants Pay.

We observe that Tuesday last, immediately after the admission of Mr. Norwood to his seat in the Senate, Senator Morton offered a resolution to pay Foster Blodgett, the contestant, pay and mileage, from March 4, 1871, to this date, and asked for its present consideration. Mr. Blair objected, and the resolution went over.

The City Judgeship.

We publish a communication on this subject, to which we call special attention. A correspondent criticises our young men for an apparent eagerness in hunting up the disabilities of the old. But we entirely dissent from that view of the matter. It is exceedingly proper that the question of eligibility should be looked into, for it is of vital importance to our whole people, that no step shall be taken, which will vitiate the proceedings and judgements of our City Court. Let the subject be thoroughly investigated.

Supreme Court Decisions.

We have received from the efficient Supreme Court Reporter, Colonel N. J. Hammond, a pamphlet copy of the Supreme Court Decisions for part of June term, 1870, and part of January term, 1871. The volume is well printed. It has been gotten out with great dispatch. It is part 2 of volume 41.

Colonel Hammond is ready to supply the profession. Colonel Hammond in this has done his work thoroughly, as he always does. An excellent index, tables of cases cited and tried, etc., make the work complete.

Lumber.

The demand for our Southern yellow pine lumber has increased ten-fold since the war. It is taking the place of the eastern spruce and white pine. Most of this pine is shipped from Pensacola, Apalachicola, and Darien, Georgia. Wherever great strength is required, as in ships, factory girders, railroad cars, and bridges, this pine is invaluable. The Southern forests have diminished very little, owing to the growth of young trees.

The New York lumber merchants have large orders at thirty-five dollars per 1,000 feet.

A Big Railroad Movement.

William M. Wadley, President of the Central; General A. R. Lawton and General Gilmer, Directors of the same, and Judge King, President, and Judge William M. Reese and Major George Hillyer, Directors of the Georgia Railroad, have been in negotiation in Augusta. The Pennsylvania Central has been trying to get a controlling interest in the Atlanta and LaGrange, the Montgomery and West Point, and Montgomery and Selma railroads. The road controls the line from Philadelphia to Augusta. It wants to control to the West. The Georgia Railroad is thus in danger. The Central and Georgia are combining. The result has not transpired. We get this from the Augusta papers.

Senator Norwood.

We have received a copy of Senator Norwood's argument to the United States Senate on his right to his seat. If we had no other evidence of his ability, this fine paper would unquestionably establish that he is a strong thinker and reasoner, and a solid lawyer.

He puts his case with point and power. He makes his legal argument with a clearness, a vigor, a directness, and a logic that surprised us. The truth is we never read a finer argument. It is exhaustive and unanswerable.

It constitutes a promising beginning for the new Senator, and, as it was successful, it gives good augury of his usefulness to the State in his high position.

The Formes-Habelmann Troupe.

This operatic troupe will be in Atlanta this week. The Savannah Republican thus speaks of their performances in Savannah:

This fine troupe of operatic singers and actors closed their engagements in our city last night, the full houses continuing to the end. They go hence to the interior cities, then West, to which we most heartily commend them. All things considered, it is among the very best companies that has visited the South; indeed we do not recollect one that could boast of so great an amount of talent. It is seldom that we see two great basses and the number of tenors in a traveling troupe. The Prima Donna, Miss Rosetal, is a true artiste, and will be appreciated by all good judges of music and the drama.

To our friends of the press, especially, do we commend this company, assuring them that it will perform every promise, and meet every just obligation.

The Atlanta and West Point Railroad

A few days since we published an advertisement from certain gentlemen, complaining against the above road for want of proper attention to the comfort of passengers. The advertisement could not be refused, as it was couched in language personally unobjectionable. The columns of a newspaper cannot be closed against the people.

But we must say for THE CONSTITUTION that there is not a better managed railroad in the South than the Atlanta and West Point, and we say this from personal knowledge of the leading officers of the road, and from the experience of travel upon it. We therefore take occasion, in publishing the subjoined letter, to state our belief in its correctness.

ATLANTA, December 25, 1871.

Colonel L. P. Grant: I noticed a card in THE DAILY CONSTITUTION a few days ago, signed by several individuals, and also your reply to the same. Having traveled over your road repeatedly during the year, day and night, summer and winter, I deem it but an act of simple justice to bear testimony to the polite attentions of all your conductors upon whose trains I have providentially been thrown.

They have never, to my knowledge, and I am a close observer, neglected any duty to the passengers; and these statements apply as well to Mr. Herndon as to any of your conductors. Besides, I can truly say that I consider the condition of the road and its general management most excellent, as a proof of which you scarcely ever have any accidents, although your express trains make good time and close connections.

You can make whatever use of this you may think best.

Very truly,
H. C. HORNADY.

Henry Clews & Co.'s Letter.

We very cheerfully give Henry Clews & Co. the space that they ask. Their letter will be found in another column, explaining their connection with our bonds.

We can assure Messrs. Clews & Co. that they gain nothing by insinuating against the people of Georgia a purpose to repudiate the honest debts of the State, by the system of inquiry into our finances, adopted by the Legislature. We repeat for the hundreth time, that Georgia has no intention to repudiate a dollar of her proper indebtedness, and these reiterated slurs about the State dishonoring herself, are as needless as they are offensive, as untrue as they are injudicious. To advise a virtuous woman against the sale of her honor, could not give less offense, and be more insulting, than to counsel a great commonwealth like Georgia against a disgrace that she has never contemplated, and which she has given no grounds for charging against her.

While we are ready to accord to Clews & Co. all possible credit for their alleged kind feeling for, and practical kindness to, the South generally and Georgia in particular, and while we are eagerly ready at all times to acknowledge and reciprocate genuine demonstrations of good will from the North, yet we are not disposed to decide great questions of domestic State interest, in an extraordinary complication of difficulty, brought about by misrule, according to sentimental assertion, or under the lash of gratuitous accusations of dishonor by those who are as deeply interested and as closely connected with the matters of trouble as Clews & Co.

We have no disposition to be unfair to Clews & Co. They evidently little understand the temper or purposes of the good people of Georgia. They are dealing with a set of citizens who will leap to right as promptly as they will repel the intimation of dishonor.

Let Clews & Co. co-operate with us in the practical and prompt execution of this law for inquiring into our finances, instead of misconstruing it into repudiation. Let them show the same willingness as other New York bankers to get the bad securities eliminated from the good, and enable us to know the true state of our finances. Let them cease suspecting Georgia of intent to dishonor her credit for acts that have to be perverted to convey such a meaning.

There are some portions of this letter upon which we shall comment hereafter.

HENRY CLEWS & CO.

They Explain About their Connection With Georgia Securities.

They Volunteer Some Counsel to the State of Georgia.

NEW YORK, December 20.

Editors Constitution: Various articles which have appeared from time to time in your paper, relating to bonds of the State of Georgia, with which we have been more or less directly connected, lead us to ask the privilege of your columns, for a brief word in relation to our association with the Commonwealth.

Immediately after the close of the late civil war, it was our conviction that the sectional feeling of enmity arising out of the strife, could be best obliterated by linking the North and South in identical interests, for the material development of the Southern States. From that time to the present, our efforts and our means have alike been turned in this direction, and we have given what aid has been in our power to movements tending to the end which we believed profitable alike to the individual interests involved and to the country at large. To the State of Georgia in especial, our attention was directed, fitted by geographical position and natural advantages to take the lead in the tide of progress, and to be the centre of distribution for all Southern products; and as the chief means to promote this end we have endeavored to aid efforts which were making to establish a railway system throughout the State, suitable to control a business which, before many years, must prove of vast magnitude, comprising trans-continental travel over at least one line of Pacific Railway, and a large proportion of traffic in the products of the Western States which must naturally seek the shortest route to the seaboard.

We were solicited by the contractors of the Brunswick and Albany Railroad Company, among other concerns, to undertake the negotiation of their securities, and deeming the enterprise one of great intrinsic merit, we undertook the negotiation, and sold for them about $2,500,000 of their first mortgage indorsed bonds, and about $500,000 of State gold bonds issued in aid of the enterprise. In dealing in these securities, we felt the utmost confidence that we were recommending to our clients and friends a bond of unquestionable worth, knowing the high credit previously enjoyed by the State, and the wealth and character of the people. The best legal talent of our city examined the laws and methods of issue of the bonds and pronounced everything in order and valid. The seal of the State and the signatures of its officers proved that all forms had been complied with in regard to registry and other requirements of the statute. We had no interest in the securities different from what we have in all similar business submitted to our care, viz: that our recommendation should be justified by the result to investors, and our just commissions fairly earned.

After we had successfully placed the greater portion of the railroad bonds we were desired by the late Governor to undertake the negotiation of a loan in behalf of the State of Georgia, the authority for which was shown to our counsel, and which appeared to have been sanctioned not only by legislative enactments, but by popular need. We, therefore, readily undertook the business. The proceeds of $1,650,000 bonds were placed to the credit of the State, represented by its Executive, from whom we had received the securities. A certificate of the registry of the bonds at the Comptroller's office and report to the Treasurer by him for record was duly furnished us before undertaking the negotiation. The proceeds of the bonds, we were informed, were devoted to expenses attending the removal of the capital of the State to the new seat of government, to redemption of past due bonds, and paying floating obligations of the State—purposes which seemed most fitting and needful for the public. The remuneration received by us for all our negotiations above referred to was such only as is commonly paid in like transactions, and such as we had daily applications to undertake.

The above is a full history of our connection with the State. We have been actuated throughout by a feeling of friendliness toward the South at large, and by a desire in particular to assist in furnishing the means essential to establish the State of Georgia in the position of the empire State of the South. The securities which we have sold are distributed in numberless hands throughout Europe and this country, who, like ourselves, have based their faith upon the seal and signature of the State. Any dishonor to its obligations on the part of the State, such as the counsels of some of the legislators would seem to indicate, must fall very widely on parties who have trusted to the reputation of the State, unblemished heretofore in the financial world, and who have known nothing or cared nothing about political and sectional strifes, confiding in the belief that the financial interests of the commonwealth must be cared for by whatever party predominated.

Should Georgia disown obligations thus incurred, the infamy must extend through every part of the financial world, and will result not only in shutting off the State from help in all future applications which may be made for loans, but also must close the avenues of capital to municipalities, corporations, and individuals in a large measure throughout the borders of the State. The experience of other portions of the Union is sufficient guide as to the evil policy of a State disregarding its obligations. Least of all can Georgia afford to place itself among those few States which have in an evil hour repudiated their honest debts just as capital and population are beginning to turn toward it. The money which has already been introduced in its borders, even though, perhaps, not expended with care as designed in the statute, as is now apparently patent, has yet resulted, by reason of the construction of valuable lines of railway, in great increase in taxable property, and in resources for future development. Let Georgia honestly sustain debts honestly contracted on the part of the lenders, and in the future it can command in the moneyed world whatever means it may need. Let it disown its obligations, and henceforth its progress is checked; the tide of wealth is turned in other directions, and every individual throughout its boundaries is dishonored.

We offer these counsels at the dictation, not of any personal interest, but solely from a desire to urge upon the Legislators of Georgia not to rashly and blindly incur consequences from which they cannot in all time escape.

Very respectfully, your ob'dt sv'ts,
HENRY A. CLEWS & Co.

CARD FROM JUDGE IRWIN.

He Received no State Road Fee from Blodgett.

MARIETTA, GA., Dec. 25, 1871.

Editors Constitution: I find in your paper of the 22d instant, a list of attorneys who, as such, received from the Western and Atlantic Railroad the fees severally annexed to their names in the year 1870, in which list my name appears as having received, as attorney, a few of three hundred dollars from said railroad. Ordinarily this would be a matter of but very little consequence; yet I deem it proper to say that I have not been employed as attorney for said railroad, or consulted in relation thereto, since the administration of Governor Crawford, nor have I received a fee as such from said railroad or the State.

In the year 1869 I was one of three arbitrators to whom was referred an old litigated claim against said railroad, and after a laborious investigation from time to time for about six weeks, an award was rendered against said road, in which the sum of three hundred dollars was awarded to each of said arbitrators against said road for their services as such, which award was made the judgment of the court, and, I believe, paid in the year 1870, though I do not see the amounts specified in the list herein referred to, except the amount paid to myself. Otherwise than herein stated, I have had nothing to do with the affairs of said railroad within the period hereinbefore mentioned, and I make this statement simply to correct an error.

With great respect, etc. DAVID IRWIN.

Sunday's Constitution—Dickens—City Judgeship, etc.

Editors Constitution: At the risk of shocking your modesty, I hope you will permit me to say a word in compliment of your last Sunday morning's issue: I think it was the best single issue of a daily newspaper I have seen published in Georgia since the war.

Your political articles were rich and racy your article on "Dickens and Christmas" were not only apropos, but to my taste, precisely. The world is just beginning to appreciate what this great and good man has done for the cause of humanity. What Shakespeare has done in the drama, Dickens has done in fictions. They will pass along down the stream of time together, "holding the mirror up to nature," and future generations will be astonished at their marvelous powers. I was also much pleased at your religious news items, as well as your story—"Lover's Quarrel."

The communication on the City Judge was well written—evidently the product of a legal mind. But if the writer is correct, and I do not think he is, what a comment it is upon our present political status, when our old men, whose locks have grown gray in the service of the country, must be thrust aside, and their places filled by young men. Not only this, but the young men, in their eager desire to fill the old men's places, seem to be hunting for these disabilities, and as soon as an old man is spoken of for a place, the first remark of our young men is, "he is not eligible." I would respectfully suggest to our young ambitious friends, a little, just a little, more modesty. Why, sir, had you thought of the fact, that this county, having the next largest city in the State, and the capital thereof, sends four men to the Legislature, all of them young men?

To conclude about the City Judge, could not the City Council put off the election of City Judge until the bill now pending in Congress, relieving nearly every body, is passed? This would give the old men some chance.

But I have wandered from my text. I merely intended to say that I am rejoiced at your success in publishing a first class daily.

GOSSIP.

The City Judge.

Editors Constitution: The City Court of Atlanta, created by a recent law, is to go into force in the month of March next, and the new City Council are to elect a Judge, to hold his office for four years. It is a court of large jurisdiction, both civil and criminal, just such a court as has been long needed in our city, and it is important that a competent, active, faithful and eligible lawyer should be elected by the Council as the Judge of it. No man who is not, beyond question, eligible to the position under the 14th amendment, ought to be elected. Because great inconvenience to the bar and clients will be the result if the lawyer elected shall be denied his commission upon the ground that he is not eligible, and the court delayed until that question is settled or another elected.

The 3d section of the 14th amendment reads as follows:

"No person shall be Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an Executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or giving aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability."

Now, if the Judgeship of the City Court of Atlanta is an office civil or military of the State of Georgia, then this amendment applies to one who is a candidate for that office. It is clear that it is a civil office under the State of Georgia—to any one reading the bill creating the court, for many apparent reasons. Among them are the following:

The Judge is to be commissioned by the Governor.

He is removable on the address of two-thirds of the General Assembly.

He has jurisdiction of all offenses less than a felony committed against the State in Atlanta.

His fi. fas. are addressed to the sheriffs of the State, and runs throughout the State, as also his sci. fas. runs throughout the State. He acts under direct authority from the State.

He has jurisdiction of habeas corpus, without reference to the citizenship in Atlanta, of the petitioner.

In view of these facts, Mr. Editor, without wishing to disparage the claims of others whose names have been spoken of in connection with this office, and who are all estimable gentlemen, I would suggest the name of Marshall J. Clarke, Esq., a lawyer whose marked ability as a judge of law is universally recognized by his brother lawyers, and one whose high integrity, only equalled by his modesty, has won for him the implicit confidence of all who know him. There can be no question about his eligibility, ability, energy or fitness, in any respect, for the position.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBIA, December 26.—In the report of the Legislative Joint Investigating Committee, which has been sitting in New York during the summer, with B. F. Whittemore as chairman, has appeared. It makes nearly three hundred printed pages, and gives an elaborate review of the financial administration of the State's finances since the installment of its present government regarding the State debt.

The committee declare that they cannot believe other than the fearful truths that stare them in the face that the bonds and stocks printed by the American Bank Note Company—$22,540,000—represent the liabilities of the State, for which the faith and credit of the State, however unlawfully presented, has been pledged for payment. The contingent liability incurred by railroad indorsement swells the total up to nearly $29,000,000. In conclusion the report says: The committee, in view of the atrocity of the disclosures of the work of the present administration, or rather a ring composed of the leading officers of the State Government, unhesitatingly say that the Republican party which elevated them to power, must now show its condemnation of such foul, glaring treachery and knavery, by an immediate and united effort by legislative enactments, as well as by every other deliberate measure, to bring to justice those who have prostituted the authority with which they have been clothed and so flagrantly and criminally imperilled the trusts to them confided.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, December 26.—The Twelfth Night Revellers will give their thirtieth annual representation on Friday, January 5th, instead of the sixth, which comes on Saturday, in a grand procession and ball at the Opera Hall. The fashionable society here look forward to the Twelfth Night as the crowning event of the season. The representation for 1872 promises to be a brilliant affair.

Notice of the clerk of the Supreme Court.

His Honor Judge Hopkins will hear motions to-day.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Judge Hammond had no Court yesterday.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Wellborn Hill, of Augusta, and his fair bride are guests at the Kimball House.

BLACK ALPACAS, Black Silks and Hosiery—the finest in the market—at the London Store, Marie Is street.

A FAVORITE DRINK.—One of the favorite temperance drinks Christmas around this city, was soda lemonade, with the chill off.

THE London Store has now put down its prices, in order that a clearance may be made of the beautiful stock, in reasonable time.

RESIGNED.—W. A. Harden, County Surveyor of Fulton, having resigned the position, Judge Pittman has appointed Joel Mable to the position.

THE remains of Mr. Sheuman, who died a day or two since in Griffin, passed through the city last night en route to New York for interment

GOOD.—The Philadelphia and Atlanta wholesale liquor house is making a great run on its Pride of Pennsylvania Rye Whisky. It is as fine as it is represented, and just the thing for egg-nogs.

CANDIDATES.—The number and supply of applicants for the offices soon to be vacated in the municipal government of the city, greatly exceeds the demand as well as the number of offices to be filled.

YESTERDAY.—The bright sunshine and blue sky of Christmas Day were all shut out yesterday, and threatening, dripping clouds hung over the city. Business of all kinds seemed very dull, money scarce, and nothing but mud was plentiful.

CHRISTMAS TREE.—To night the Cold Water Templars have their Christmas Tree entertainment at James' Bank Block Hall. Doubtless a very large audience will be in attendance, and the evening be pleasantly and delightfully spent by all.

CHRISTMAS TREE.—The members of the Christian Church, and the public generally, are invited to attend this, Wednesday night, the 27th instant, at ½ o'clock, at their house of worship on Hunter street, to witness the exercises of the Sunday School. A Christmas tree will form a part of the entertainment. Prompt attendance is desired.

"MOTHER, MAY I GO OUT TO SWIM?"—No, my dearest daughter, but I will ask the City Street Committee to walk down to Loyd street and see the members of the Catholic Church wading through mud and water from the gate of the Georgia Freight depot down opposite O. H. Jones' stable.

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH.—The Christmas Tree for the Sunday School of this Church was to have showered its fruits last night, but, on account of the terrible weather in the afternoon, was postponed until to-night. The hour is 3 o'clock, at the Church.

CHARITY.—A gentleman of this city met with two poor little orphan girls on Decatur street, on Christmas day, and bought each of them a warm dress and a pair of shoes. There is no joy so great as that which springs from a kind act or a pleasant deed, and you may feel it at night when you rest, or at morning when you rise, and throughout the day when about your business.

THE congregation of St. Stephens' Chapel will have a Christmas tree for their Sunday School, in their Hall, on the corner of Walton and Forsyth streets, on Thursday, 28th inst., at 7 o'clock P. M. All, and especially the children and congregation of St. Philips' Church are cordially invited to be present.

GEO. MACAULA, Pastor.

SOLDIER SHOT.—The information came to the city yesterday, that a soldier from the Barracks was shot, out in that neighborhood, on Monday night. The particulars we have not as yet been able to ascertain, but have heard that he was dangerously wounded by a pistol ball in the side, and that his recovery was doubtful.

NEGRO BOY KILLED.—In yesterday afternoon's issue of THE CONSTITUTION it was stated that a negro boy had been killed accidentally by another at Jenningsville. There has been various statements made relative to the death of the boy. As a warrant is in the hands of an officer for the arrest of the boy who fired the gun or pistol, the case will undergo a judicial investigation, when the facts will be arrived at.

AGED.—This reporter met at the cars last evening a man eighty-eight years old, who was on his way from South Carolina to attend, doubtless the death bed of a daughter, and she his only child. She lives with a family near Uniontown, Alabama. We have never met one of more patience and resignation than this man. Who knows what joys have thrilled, what sorrows have saddened, and what battles have been lost and won, in his aged heart.

NEW YEAR'S CALLS.—THE CONSTITUTION Job office has just received the latest styles of cards, and we call special attention to the fact by those intending to make new year's calls. As there is no leisure time in the office, we trust that orders will be made as soon as possible.

At the annual election for officers of Mt. Zion Chapel, No. 17, held December 25th, the following officers were elected:

*I. J. Glenn, H. P.; *J. Fleishel, King; *J. M. Wills, Scribe; C. Fay, C. of H.; W. L. Hubbard, P. S.; *L. P. King, R. A. C.; *L. R. Lanier, M. 3d W.; S. L. Solomanson, M. 2d W.; D. M. Ballil, M. 1st W.; *J. M. Boring, Treasurer; *A. Rosenfeld, Secretary; *J. C. McLin, Sentinel.

Those marked with a star were re-elected.

MEETING OF NEW COUNCIL.—A meeting of the new Council was held yesterday. A question that for some time has been agitated was settled, namely, to uniform the police force. The uniform agreed upon is gray, with a blue cap. The pay of the members of the police force has been raised to $2 25 per day; out of this the uniform is to be paid for. For the future no policeman is to receive perquisites. Another thing decided upon, the Chief of the Fire Department will hereafter receive no salary.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—HON. JOHN ERSKINE, JUDGE, PRESIDING.—This Court was in session on yesterday. In the case in equity of Felton vs. Loyds, before the resuming of argument, complainant filed an amendment to his bill, and further time was given for the defendant to file an answer or a cross bill.

The case of Smith vs. Marsh was submitted to his Honor without argument.

After disposing of some motions, the Court adjourned until this morning, at 10 o'clock.

CHRISTMAS.—A brash business was done in Christmas presents, despite the bad weather. McBride & Co., sold great quantities of their beautiful glassware, vases, toilet sets, and other beauties. They have still more on hand for the New Year's stock.

Lawshe & Haynes sold worlds of jewelry and silverware, but still have more.

Phillips & Crew made a great hole in their fine books and pictures, and other beauties.

MESSRS. JAMES O. ALLEN & CO.—These gentlemen, wholesale and retail dealers in lumber and coal, are well fitted up at their office and yard opposite the Georgia Railroad Depot. They are fully prepared to furnish the public with anything in their line, and at prices to suit the times. They are agents for the celebrated Coal Creek Coal.

THE CONSTITUTION Office returns sincere thanks to Messrs. Allen & Co. for a load of their superior coal, and from using it can testify as to its excellence.

OLD Hezekiah Niles, the founder of Niles Register, in his introductory bow to the public, remarked that "custom forms a common law to which the world must conform, whether agreeable or otherwise." Now this reporter followed the ordinary customs which prevail in the city during Christmas time visited Christmas trees, attended German balls witnessed the burning of roman candles, partaken of egg nog, and visited about generally—and having followed "custom," begs indulgence of all short comings in his column this morning.

HONESTY REWARDED.—Some weeks since Judge J. A. Hayden, of this city, had the misfortune to lose his pocket book containing some money. The pocket book was found by young Jacob Menko, a boy of this city, and with its contents returned to the Judge. Young Menko was sufficiently satisfied at having found the book and money and refused any remuneration. On Christmas day, Judge Hayden presented to Jacob a very handsome solid silver cup, bearing the inscription—"For Honesty."

Editors Constitution: We had the pleasure in witnessing on Friday, the 22d instant, the examination of the pupils of Mr. Harney's High School, and are happy to say that the young ladies and little girls, the boys as well, acquitted themselves with much credit. His method of examining, calling on the spectators to select the page or paragraph we particularly commend.

In the afternoon we were entertained with compositions (original) from young ladies, and declamation speeches from the boys. Both the reading of the girls and declamation of the boys showed that they had attained the rare art of being first interested themselves. We think none who patronize this institution will regret it.

STREET CAR ETIQUETTE.—This reporter has heard complaints once or twice recently of the want of politeness shown by men towards females in the street cars, and recently an acquaintance has asked us that when a man has paid his fare if he is not entitled to a seat to his destination. Surely no female, whether finely or plainly clad, whether beautiful or homely, should be permitted to stand in a car, while a man has a seat to offer. For a man to keep his seat in a car while a female stands is an advertisement of his want of good breeding. The true gentleman cheerfully surrenders a privilege to any woman, and that, too, without reference to the brilliancy of her eyes or the costliness of her apparel. The fact is a gentleman is a gentleman because he can't help it, and never keeps his seat in a car while a woman is standing.

ATLANTA LIEDERKRANZ.—The old Concordia Hall presented an animated scene on Christmas night, the occasion being one of those delightful entertainments given by our German citizens. As the hour of 7½ drew near, visitors crowded into the hall until nearly every available seat was occupied by a delighted audience. Bright lights reflected on the beaming countenances and sparkling eyes of all present. Lively music, mingled with which were merry peals of laughter, all creating several hours of enjoyment for all present. The music was furnished by Dr. Wurms' band. The order of dancing the Polonaise, Schottische, Waltz, Polka, Quadrille, Varsouvienne and gallop, was very happily arranged, and contributed in a very great measure to the enjoyment of the evening. The large attendance rendered the labors of the management arduous, and we are gratified to know that their duties were performed in a manner alike satisfactory and pleasing to all. The tables groaned beneath their burdens of delicacies of every variety, and in bounteous profusion.

This reporter hopes to be present at many balls of our German friends, and trusts that all their future undertakings may meet with that success, which has crowned their ball of Christmas night.

THE FORMES HABELMANN OPERA TROUPE.—The above company will begin a short season at DeGive's Opera House to-night. The troupe is considered to be a superior one. The operas selected for the season are such as our people will be best pleased to hear. Many seats have been secured for each opera, and everything promises four evenings of real enjoyment for us, and of substantial rewards to the energetic management. It is devoutly to be hoped that nothing will occur to mar the one or diminish the other. Of the performance before the last in Savannah, the News says:

"As we anticipated, last night was the gala night of the season, the audience being the largest and most fashionable one of the week. This should be gratifying to the company, not only in a pecuniary point of view, but as a proof of their nightly increasing popularity with our public. The opera of "Fra Diavolo," which combined the entire strength of the troupe, was admirably rendered throughout, and was enthusiastically received by the audience. The opera is a compo-ition of rare merit, and not only its exquisite music, but the story has been rendered so familiar by its repeated performance in its English version, that with the fine acting last night the libretto was scarcely needed to aid the audience in their appreciation of dramatic interest, while the ravishing melody interpreted itself to every heart. The Formes-Habelmann Grand Opera Troupe, one and all, deserve a farewell ovation. Let the lovers of music give them a parting bumper.

Editors Constitution: "C. V." says, in a letter written under date Cincinnati, November 27, and published in that sterling Insurance journal, the Baltimore Underwriter, that "the fire insurance companies of this city are doing a largely increased business, especially the Andes."

And the Amazon and Triumph have each been doing nearly as large an amount of business as the Andes did before the Chicago fire. President Bennett is engaging many of the most valuable special and general agents of companies, which have ceased to do business on account of the Chicago fire, and from present indications, will bring his companies to the very front rank of the fire insurance of the age. How often its possessor experiences a distant coldness shown even from the best of friends, or perhaps the one most fondly cherished, from this source. You are ignorant of the cause yourself, the subject is so delicate—your most intimate friend will not mention it. Why not remove this one great barrier to your health, beauty and happiness, at once, by using that justly popular dentifrice, fragrant Sozodont, the most convenient, pleasant and efficacious gem for the toilet the world has ever produced.

"MERRY CHRISTMAS"—1871.

The dear old Christmas is here!
The days of days in all the year!
Let every voice with laugh and cheer,
Speak out the "Merry Chri-tmas!"

Wife and bud, look out, dark days on mass,
Nor know we when the cloud shall pass,
But on this day push round the glass,
And drink a "Merry Christmas!"

We drink first to each little one!
That bonbons, toys, frolic, fun,
May make this whole day just begun,
Indeed a "Merry Christmas!"

To our fair girls, so soft and bright,
We drink: May time bring them no blight;
Their every hope, may heaven's smile light;
Sweet ones, a "Merry Christmas!"

And to our fellow-men success!
Such hearts to win, such hands caress,
Yet—nothing that stern duties press
Hard on this "Merry Christmas!"

To those we love—the true and dear!
May life bring joy, and death no fear!
To old and young, to far and near,
We wish a "Merry Christmas!"

Deep, deep we drink to one alone,
Ruling our heart on highest throne,
May every bliss by beings known
Fall THERE this "Merry Christmas!"

Wide, wide o'er all our Southern land,
We send our greeting, stretch our hand,
Calling on each to join the band,
And shout the "Merry Christmas!"

Let bonfires shoot their flames on high!
Let bells peal out against the sky!
Let glancing feet, and sparkling eye
And bounding spirits all now vie
In greeting dear, "Old Christmas!"

The forty-second anniversary of the New England Society was held in Charleston on Friday last.

James L. Jamison is the successfull candidate to fill the vacancy in the Senate caused by the death of Joseph Greene.

Munroe H. Harmon, an inoffensive criple white man, keeper of the poor house at Lexington, was murdered a few days ago. Work has begun on the Georgetown and Charlotte Railroad.

SOMETHING FOR THE PRESS TO CONSIDER. A lady writer prefaces a biographical notice of one of her friends with these pertinent and suggestive remarks:

"Would not this world be a better world if the press gave more space to the record of virtue, and less of that of vice? If, instead of police reports, the sayings and doings of the vicious and depraved, our papers brought us accounts of good deeds done, good words spoken, good lives lived, and good hopes of better words and deeds and lives in the great future, would they not furnish a better ailment to the soul while the body is refreshed by the morning and evening meals. I think the answer 'yes,' and that we might as well hope to form healthy bodies by eating decayed food as healthy souls by feeding on the garbage of crime."

HOW TO ENJOY LIFE.—It is wonderful to what an extent people believe happiness depends on not being obliged to labor. Honest, hearty, contented labor is the only source of happiness, as well as the only guarantee of life. Idleness and luxury induce premature decay much faster than many trades regarded as the most exhaustive and fatal to longevity. Labor in general actually increases the term of life. It is the lack of occupation that annually destroys so many of the wealthy, who, having nothing to do, play the part of drones, and, like them, make a speedy exit, while the busy bee fills out its day in usefulness and honor.

NEW YORK.
THIS well known, favorite hotel, has recently been renovated, remodeled and furnished new and elegantly throughout. It is kept on the European plan, and has ample accommodations for four hundred guests.
The location is more accessible to all parts of New York and Brooklyn than any other house in the city. The Broadway Stages pass the hotel every three minutes, besides various lines of Street Cars, one of which intersects every other route in New York.
It being but two blocks from Fulton Ferry, makes it convenient for those wishing to visit the "City of Churches," as from this ferry diverges all the principal railroad routes in the city of Brooklyn.
